

Celebrate Your Life.... an attendee's perspective

By Diana Anastazia

During the early fall of 2006, I opened the pages to a Mystic Pop Magazine and saw an ad for the Celebrate your Life conference. The collective group of authors and speakers that were to lead the workshops and keynotes caught my attention. I was familiar with many of them and had already benefited, supported, and referred their works throughout the past 20 years. As a product designer and speaker I continue to evolve and incorporate science, art, and inspiration into my work. Now, it was time to rejuvenate and experience some of the world's renowned authors and speakers through the lens of where we all have grown. The conference also presented me an opportunity to see those who were on my "intend to pick up their book list" as well as to see those who were brand new authors and teachers. Through word of mouth I had heard that "The Celebrate Your Conference" was one of the finest in the industry, so I phoned to order a ticket for myself and a friend. We purchased 2 of the last 12 before it became a sold out event. I knew it would be an amazing experience, simply to be in the presence and energy of the group of individuals that were gathering to listen and learn with a similar intention of creating consciousness from a heart centered place.
