

Listen, Learn, and Awaken

The workshops along with their teachers reflected the diverse interests and topics that impact our daily lives. There was science and spirit, the power of our brains, the connections of the universe, relationships and communication, health, peace and Love, talking to the other side, and for us to remember our angels and guides. It was simple to find classes that suited whatever one's personality, place on their journey, or special interests were. The late registration fee was a bargain in itself for all we received.

As we are both student and teacher in this life, it was fun to be the student to focus and listen, learn, and awaken for three days. I have always believed that when one attends a seminar and desires to have a positive experience and learn new tools, one will receive that. This was that and then some!

Meet & Greet as we Connect & Affect our World

The Celebrate Your Life Conference was also a place and space where the law of attraction and synchronicity were confirmed. The amazing connections we all made at the conference will "become visible in time". As many businesses send employees to networking events, this conference serves as a divine network for those who trust in the law of attraction. Both my friend and I expanded our friendships across the world and left the conference enriched. We had so much fun over the 3 days we decided to come back for the movie night to just hang out and experience "The Celestine Prophecy."

This conference can serve the business community as a tool to assist in awakening to the oneness of the world. I believe that when leadership understands that the power of intention directs the flow of their company's energy, a new direction toward profits through "Conscious Commerce" is possible. It is a place and space where science and spirit meet and greet each other.

Behind the Seminar Scenes (More than Meets the Eye)

It's been said that "Love is found in the details", and the Phoenix event was run with attention to detail. As someone who once promoted Anthony Robbins and worked large scale events, I express my gratitude to those who ran the daily operations to make such a conference appear effortless. I also appreciate the pace of the workshops and break times. There was also yoga in the mornings and EFT, and massage to relax and release along the way of the day. With a small staff, Mishka Productions does big work, with wide open hearts! They not only organized all these wonderful authors to be in one place at one time, but did it with such love that was felt throughout the entire 3 days.

The story of the company beginnings also added that special and genuine feeling that we all felt while there and that would later in our own hearts. It is easy to support work that resonates with our spirit!

The CHI in Chicago -

Did you know that Chicago is also known as Chi-Town?

Chicago and its visitors are happy to welcome the Celebrate Your Life Conference this June. The energy is already flowing (maybe it is the power of Chi at work) and the individuals that you are bringing to our city will add to the pool of amazing peace keepers, healers, and "waker uppers", that are already here and doing their heart centered work.

The Celebrate Your Life conference will be coming to Chicago for the first time June 22 - 24, bringing with them an amazing array of speakers. Marianne Williamson, Iyanla Vanzant, Neale Donald Walsch, Sonia Choquette, James Van Praagh are among just a few of the presenters.
